
Dianne Bonner Theatre Dance School

The Dianne Bonner Theatre Dance School caters for childrens Tap and ballet lessons. Dianne has been the principal of the school since 1993 and an associate of the IDTA who has dedicated her working lifetime to the teaching of dance. Pupils are trained according to the syllabus and high quality standard of the International Dance Theatre Association, with a 100% pass rate in the examinations of the IDTA being maintained. Over the past 15 years the school has continued to thrive, training students from as young as three from preparatory up to intermediate standard. Individual pupils have gained successes in pursuits that include auditioning and acceptance for vocational dance courses, parts in local theatre productions and dance training scholarships. During December 2007 the school presented 'Jack and the Bean Stalk' at Castleford Civic Theatre, an event which was enjoyed by all pupils at the school. Adult Tap on a Thursday night, 7:00 while 9:00
